WILSON IS READY TO RECALL GERARD IF GERMANY DOES NOT BACK DOWN

AIRSHIP NIGHT RAID ON LONDON KILLS 4; MANY FIRES STARTED

Anti-German Riots Followed the Raid and More Stores Are Looted—Three of the Fires Said to Be Large.

LONDON, June 1.—After many hours of silence official announcement was made late this afternoon that ninety bombs were dropped when the Zeppelin fleet made its raid last night on London.

Four persons were killed and a few more were injured. Many fires were started in different sections of the city.

The official announcement gives little detail of the damage done except to say that no public building was damaged.

Most of the bombs thrown were of the incendiary type. Of the fires started three are said to have been very large.

As a result of the raid there was a renewal to-day of anti-German demonstrations by mobs. Crowds attacked German shops and the police had to be called out to deal with them.

The rioters pulled down the barricades from shops which had been boarded up since the previous disorders and what furniture and goods remained were taken away or destroyed.

The statement of the authorities reads as follows:

In amplification of the information which appeared in this morning's newspapers, the following particulars of last night's Zeppelin raid in the metropolitan area are now available for publication.

Late last night about ninety bombs, mostly of an incendiary character, were dropped from hostile aircraft in various localities not far distant from each other.

A number of fires, of which only three were large enough to require the services of fire engines, broke out.

All of them were promptly and effectively dealt with, and only one of them necessitated a district call. The fires all were caused by the incendiary bombs referred to.

No public building was injured, but a number of private premises were damaged by fire or water.

The number of casualties is small, so far as has at present been ascertained. One infant, one boy, one man and one woman were killed, and another woman was so seriously injured that her life is despaired of.

A few other private citizens were seriously injured, but the precise number has not yet been ascertained.

Adequate police arrangements, including the calling out of special constables, enabled the situation to be kept thoroughly in hand at all times.

The only names of victims made public so far by the Press Bureau are of two young German women, tailresses, of the name of Schrader, living in the East End. They were removed to a hospital.

Several sections of London are reported to have been attacked, the dirigibles showering both explosive and incendiary bombs. The Government notified the newspapers and press associations shortly after midnight that no reports stating what sections of the city had been attacked or detailing the number of victims would pass the censor until an official statement on the raid had been issued by the Press Bureau.

The first official statement did not mention the number of attacking dirigibles but said Zeppelins had been sighted near Hamsgate, six-and-a-half miles southeast of London, in three-and-a-half miles northeast, and in certain outlying districts of London, and that many fires had been reported. This indicated that several dirigibles composed the attacking squadron.

A supplementary statement from the Press Bureau said that bombs had been hurled in the East End and named the two German victims.

POPE HOPES AMERICA WILL ACT FOR END OF WAR

His Remarks to Bishop Kennedy and Newly Ordained American Priests.

ROME, June 1.—Pope Benedict, at an audience granted to-day to Bishop Thomas F. Kennedy and a number of newly ordained American priests, expressed the hope that America would use her best efforts to bring an end to the European war. The audience was one of the very few so far granted by the Holy See since Italy entered the war.

MADDEN STOPS MURDER TRIAL BY RAVING ON STAND

Court Orders Recess and Sends Accused Gang Leader to Tombs.

"INNOCENT!" HE CRIES.

"You're Not Giving Me a Chance!" Shouts Defendant as Lawyer Grills Him.

Owney Madden, alleged side gang leader, on trial for alleged instigation of the murder of Patsy Doyle, a rival gang leader, lost his head on the witness stand in General Sessions to-day when Assistant District Attorney Edwards, on cross-examination, got him involved in a maze of contradictory statements. Having like an insane man, Madden was ordered from the witness stand, and his counsel, Charles Coligan, being unable to pacify him, Judge Nott adjourned court and sent the defendant to the Tombs to cool off.

Madden said he was twenty-three years old, married and the father of a child three years old. He admitted he had been arrested several times.

Madden described minutely his movements on the afternoon and evening of Nov. 28, the day Doyle was killed. He said that in the evening, he went to a dance at Park Avenue and Fifty-first Street and afterward to a dance in the Bronx.

"We came downtown about 2 o'clock Sunday morning," he continued, "and went to a flat in Thirtieth Street with Margaret Everdene and Freda Horner. Margaret Everdene was afraid to go to her flat, because she had received a note from Doyle."

Madden said he and his companions remained in the flat until the following Monday, when he heard Arthur Heller and John McArdie had been arrested for killing Doyle. The girls had previously testified they were with Madden under cover, for two days following Doyle's murder. Madden denied, however, having discussed Doyle's killing with the girls.

Cross-examined by Assistant District Attorney Edwards, Madden hesitated considerably, repeating the question before replying. As Mr. Edwards got him to contradict himself Madden became sullen and was reprimanded by Judge Nott.

"Who told you Margaret Everdene was afraid she might be arrested on account of Doyle's note?" Mr. Edwards asked Madden.

"I know it."

"How did you know it?"

"Because I did."

"Did you know Doyle had been shot then?" Judge Nott asked.

"No, it was not until afterward," replied Madden.

"Then how did you know it?" again asked Mr. Edwards.

"I don't know. For what I am getting here I might as well plead guilty!" Madden yelled.

"You are guilty, aren't you?" Mr. Edwards asked.

"No, I'm not. I'm not getting a fair chance. Give me a fair shot!"

He struck the gangster at the top of his voice. "I am innocent. Every one knows it. If I was guilty I'd say so."

Here Judge Nott adjourned court. Madden was quite cool, when he resumed the stand later. The cross-examination was quickly continued and after some rebuttal witnesses were heard, the case was closed. A verdict is expected before to-morrow night.
